Presentations

Between 2008 and 2017, I have made and will make hundreds and hundreds of researched, formal, multidisciplinary presentations to 1000s and 1000s of K through 12 schools, colleges, graduate institutions, donors, art collectors, celebrities, campus classes and individuals (local, regional, national and international) visiting The Legacy Museum, where I am curator. Because the museum is the outgrowth of an Official Public Apology from a President of the United States, the museum has become a national, public face regarding bioethics issues in America and world-wide.

2008

Spelman College. 15th Anniversary of the African Diaspora and the World: Perspectives and Visions. “The Influence of the development of the core curriculum course, the African Diaspora and the World beyond the Spelman Campus.” November 8, 2008

2015

Virginia Theological Seminary

“But if God got us then we gon be alright” Spirituality and Universality in the work of Allan Rohan Crite, Kendrick Lamar and Archibald John Motley, Jr. African American Episcopal Historical Collection, Episcopal Society of the Episcopal Church, Virginia Theological Seminary. October 1, 2015

2016

Eli Lilly International Corporate Offices

Tuskegee University and the Mass Production and Distribution of Hela Cells February 18, 2016

May 17, 2016

Grant Awarded to Dr. Jontyle Robinson from the UNCF/Mellon Programs for a Teaching and Learning Institute at Tuskegee University for 18 HBCUs with Museums, Galleries and Art Spaces. My presentation regarding the Legacy Museum to this Institute is May 17th. The focus of the presentation is

The Legacy Museum's History as a bioethics and visual arts museum and how the museums collections are used and viewed through the lens of bioethics. The focus of the grant is for these 18 HBCUs with museums, galleries and Art Spaces to unite and coalesce around an interpretative tool for our security, survival and conservation issues.
